Men's Panama Hats

At $5 Each, worth $6 to $10

Two weeks ago we placed the first lot of these Panama Hats on sale, and all but seven were sold out the day the announcement was made. Dealers marveled how we could sell such handsome Panama under-price when they are having trouble to get their regular orders filled at full prices. We bought them from a new importer who is developing a new district in Chili and Peru.

The second shipment of hats is ready this morning, handsomely bleached, blocked and trimmed, and offered today

At $5 Each

The conservative values would be $6 to $10. Those who are experts in Panamas will discover several dozen worth still more.

Main floor, Broadway, Wanamaker Building.

Men's $15 to $25 Suits at $12.50

We have picked out of our regular stocks two hundred and twenty-one Sack Suits from lots that were broken in sizes, and which we wish to dispose of quickly. They are in weights intended to be worn all Summer. The fabrics are of coolest sorts, and the coats are half-lined. They are our regular $15, $18, $20 and $25 suits. The materials are black thibets, chevots and plain blue and black unfinished worsteds and serges. There are single and double-breasted sack coats, cut in the smartest styles of the season. All tailored and finished in the well-known Wanamaker manner.

While the individual lots are broken in sizes, there is a complete assortment in one style or another as the selling starts; but, naturally, the men who get here first will be most certain of getting exactly what they want. Promptness will pay well. $12.50 a suit.

We also have today a collection of about one hundred and fifty handsome Sack Suits for young men of 15 to 19 years, which will, of course, meet the requirements of men of 31 to 35 chest measure. The suits are of new fancy mixed worsteds with single and double-breasted sack coats, half-lined with cool mohair. Sold regularly at $10, $12 and $15—

Today at $7.75 a Suit

Main floor, Wanamaker Building.

Men's Coat Shirts at $1 Each

Worth $1.50

These Shirts bear the label of one of the most particular shirt makers in the trade. They are made in the convenient coat style, with cuffs attached. Some have plaited bosoms, others are in plain negligee style; finished in the best possible manner.

We have ready this morning just 1500 of these splendid shirts to sell at $1 each. It is a fine time for men to lay in a summer supply. All regular sizes.

Wanamaker Building, Astor Place corner.

The Bride's Silverware

A Beautiful Roomful
Of Wedding Gift Silver

This is the way to choose Wedding Silver—in our Wedding Gift Room, appointed as beautifully as the most superb dining-room, in glass and perfectly matched, richly grained Circassian walnut.

You can truly see, then, how your gift will look.

And the gifts themselves? We have chosen every piece on the affirmative answer to these questions—Is it distinctive, different, individual? Is it artistic, rich and handsome? Is it "good form" to the least detail?

The prices are moderate. The silverware cannot be bettered in beauty or variety.

Dinner Services of twenty-three pieces, heavily chased, bright finish, $11.40.
Berry, Salad and Fruit Bowls, $10.50 to $70.

Four Thousand More Handsome SHIRT-WAIST SUITS

Come Forward to Fill the Counters Today

YOU DID IT!

We confess that we only had a half-hearted hope that the stupendous selling record of that famous June Fourteenth last year would be equaled again yesterday. When an athlete goes out to break a world's record, his friends hold their breath as the watch ticks or the tape line is drawn. And we were going against a record that was DOUBLE the most extravagant figures known before it had been made. Would another "psychological moment" be found?—a day when the merchandise, the weather and the public demand should again be equally perfect?

The Shirt-waist Suits were BETTER, and the quantity far GREATER than last year. The weather would have been finer yesterday if it had been a bit warmer. But the scores of representatives from other stores and from manufacturing establishments who came to view the National event agreed with us, as we watched the enthusiastic throngs, that never was the response to a merchandise announcement greater or more gratifying.

And we made ANOTHER MAGNIFICENT RECORD, which we have been told a dozen times "would be absolutely impossible to ANY STORE BUT WANAMAKER'S."

This tremendous success could have only one cause. The women of New York City could only be stirred up to such almost fabulous purchases in a single day by an offering of merchandise that is simply unheard of at other times and in other stores. The immediate question for you is—

Do You Wish to Share the Dresses?

Today we have brought forward from the stock-rooms between four and five thousand dresses that there was no room to show yesterday. This means that instead of a picked-over collection, you will find stocks as fresh and clean, and practically as broad an assortment as yesterday morning, with the exception only of the $7.50 Dresses, of which there were only a thousand or so, and which were the first to be sold. Of these there is only a limited number today.

Remember that these dresses come from the "Royal" factory, where every model is carefully designed, perfect in shape, full in size, and beautifully finished. All of the materials are carefully selected, and even in the cheapest suits in the lot the quality of the fabric is above criticism. All are nicely laundered, and each suit is packed in a box, and will come to you without being mussed or soiled, as would otherwise be the case in a great sale like this.

The two groups in full supply today are as follows:

At $3-- $4.50 to $7 Shirt-waist Suits—Of fine lawns, dimities, batiste, chambray, percale and madras. Plaited and "Peter Pan" styles. Some plain white, printed, and in solid colors. Nobody would make them for the little price for which they can be bought today. $3 each.

Basement, Stewart Building, Fourth Avenue end.

At $5-- $7.50 to $12 Shirt-waist Suits—Of lawn dimity, batiste, dotted Swiss muslin, madras and pure linen. Trimmed with lace and embroidery, in plain white, solid colors, and stripes and dots. A really wonderful collection of Summer dresses for practically all occasions. The valuations of $7.50 to $12 are quite conservative. Now $5 a suit.

Second floor, Broadway, Stewart Building.

Men's Oxfords

The finest, smartest Shoes made for men—side by side with the best bargains the most thrifty man could desire. For instance:

At $6, an exclusive model, designed by an expert and thoroughly well made. Wax and patent calf.

At $2.40, small lots of high grade shoes of newest styles, worth $3.50 and $4. All Black, in calf, patent calf and gun-metal. Plenty of large sizes in the lot.

Main floor, Wanamaker Building.

Dependable English Mohairs

At 75c, worth $1.50

48 inches wide. Almost dust proof, with good wearing qualities, cool, there is no better fabric for traveling dresses and Summer gowns. This may be last chance for many months, to buy fine mohairs at half price.

English makers, having lost by manufacturing too great quantities, will now require orders in advance. The price of variety seasons this offer. Shadow checks in mixtures of cadet blue, light beige, reseda, blue, dark beige, brown and heliotrope, with line stripes in color-contrast. Narrow striped mixtures of navy blue-and-garnet, brown-and-garnet, brown-and-white, with contrasting color flecks. Small checks in brown-and-white.

Fourth Avenue, Stewart Building.

Special Sizes in Oriental and Other Rugs Woven to-Order

REQUENTLY there is a demand for Rugs in sizes not procurable from regular stock lines of Oriental, or, if procurable, the patterns and colorings are not suitable.

To meet the call for Rugs of this character a member of the firm, while in the Far East, made arrangements to have Rugs woven to order. For such work he secured a collection of 35 large weaves to be used as samples. These—all different in pattern and coloring—have just come in.

From these samples you may select the design and color combination desired, and know at the time exactly how the Rug will be. As the custom heretofore has been to display small colored prints for to-order work, this idea of showing the large Rugs as samples must be regarded as a marked improvement.

No matter what the shape of the room you wish to carpet or what you fancy in the way of coloring and design, your ideas can be carried out to the letter.

The cost of such a Rug depends upon the number of square feet it contains.

Orders require from four to six months for completion.

Orders for Autumn delivery should be given now.

The Rugs mentioned are shown only as samples and are not for sale. Until a special display room can be built for them in the Oriental Rug department they will be kept in another part of the building and shown only upon request.

Special orders will also be taken for one-piece Carpets in solid colorings or plain centres. These are fine quality, high grade fabrics made in Austria and Germany. Prices range from $8 to $50 the square yard.

It is worthy of note that our regular lines of Oriental Rugs are the largest we have ever shown.

HALF SIZES IN CLOTHING.

Our Original System of Regular and Half Sizes in Clothing does away with the last question as to a correct fit.

And made, from first to last, in our own workrooms:—

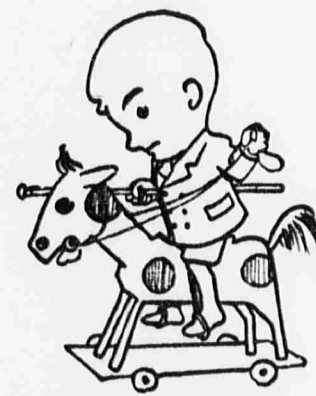

That does away with the "Sweat Shops."

That does away with the Custom Tailor's prices.

Hats and Furnishings in keeping with the clothes as to quality and prices.

General Revision has punched holes in prices all through our boys' clothing stock.

The heaviest losses of price have been among the high priced Norfolk and double-breasted suits, where many have been reduced anywhere from $4 to $7.

But almost all the stock has been marked down more or less, and the showing of suits at from $5 to $7.50, is most attractive.

In addition all our boys' sailor suits in light weight mixtures are now either $4.50 or $6.50.

ANNVOY OF J. P. MORGAN & CO.

Mrs. Williams Released From Sanitarium, Referee Not Reporting.

Supreme Court Justice Dugro ordered yesterday the immediate discharge of Mrs. Ellen B. Williams, the woman who was arrested and committed to an asylum after she had made a scene in the office of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Mrs. Williams has been kept in a sanitarium at Whitestone for some weeks. She was brought to court yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus. It came out that she had never been formally committed, but that an arrangement had been entered into for her counsel for her and for the people providing for her detention there pending an examination into her sanity before a referee.

James J. Nealis, the referee, held several hearings in the case, but the proceedings were not concluded, and he has never reported to the court. It was understood that Justice Greenbaum had approved a commitment, but it was learned yesterday that he had merely approved the arrangement between counsel.

When these circumstances were explained to Justice Dugro he examined the papers and then said that as no commitment had been made against Mrs. Williams and there was no warrant or other process for her incarceration he failed to see why she was deprived of her liberty.

"She is at perfect liberty to leave this court room now," said Justice Dugro, and hardly had the words left his mouth before Mrs. Williams vanished from the courtroom. It was said that she was in the care of her son and that English relatives will look after her.

Mrs. Williams was not arrested without a warrant. Magistrate Wahl issued the warrant on a complaint made by Andrew J. Dunn.

THROUGH THE PARTY WALL.

The Noise That Filtered Into Lawyer Stone's Home Hints to Ask Neighbor to Vacate.

Frederick J. Stone, a lawyer who lives at 254 West Ninety-third street, had Dorothy Dursey, who said she was an actress, summoned to the West Side court yesterday afternoon to show cause why she shouldn't vacate the house next door to Mr. Stone's at 252 Mr. Stone had three detectives from the West 100th street station and his wife and son in court to tell what a racket had been in the Dursey house almost every night for months, and sometimes nearly all night.

Detective Horan and Mr. Stone's son told how they spied on the actress's house at 3 o'clock last Thursday morning, and saw the lady of the house come into the kitchen in her robe de nuit with two men, when, according to Horan, "she talked so loud she could be heard for three blocks, and said hell every once in awhile."

The actress said she wasn't anxious to live there and would gladly move if she could get $200 for $1,000 worth of furniture that she owned. The case was put over until to-day to see if she can't make such a deal.

Terranova Wants Marriage Annulled.
Rufus L. Perry, the colored lawyer of Brooklyn, said yesterday that directly after the acquittal of Josephine Terranova her husband, Giuseppe, called on him and told him to begin proceedings for the annulment of his marriage to the girl. In the summons that Mr. Perry has prepared it is alleged that the defendant was guilty of fraud in inducing Giuseppe to marry her. Mr. Perry was not able to locate Josephine yesterday. He says he will serve the papers on the girl by publication if he is not able to find her.

CHANDLER HAS TUFF WITH JUDGE.

Indignant at Rosinsky for Not Starting Case Over Again—Hands Back Fee.

Lewis Stuyvesant Chandler, the lawyer who was once fined for contempt by Judge Newburger in General Sessions, had a tiff yesterday with Judge Rosinsky. Chandler has been counsel for George W. Curtis, who is on trial for forgery in making entries in the books of the New York Polytechnic Medical School and Hospital, where he was employed as a bookkeeper.

The trial was put off several times at the request of either Mr. Chandler or his partner, L. E. Rogers. Finally Assistant District Attorney Nutt insisted that the case be tried, and when Judge Rosinsky so ordered Mr. Rogers said he would withdraw as counsel for Curtis.

"I can't stop you from doing that," said Judge Rosinsky, "but as you seem to know more about this case than any one else the court has the power to assign you, which it does."

On Monday a jury was obtained. Mr. Rogers appeared. Mr. Chandler showed up yesterday quite indignant. He wanted one of the jurors withdrawn so that he could begin the case again. Judge Rosinsky refused to do that and Mr. Chandler announced that it was his duty to return the fee he got from his client. The Judge said he had nothing to do with that and Mr. Chandler, who is wealthy, handed over several bills to Curtis. Then he walked out of court. Mr. Rogers went on with the case.

Murderer McPartland Insane.
James McPartland, the giant watchman who killed Mrs. Lena Hopfer while she slept in bed with her crippled husband, was sent to the Matteawan Insane Asylum by Judge Foster in General Sessions yesterday. Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald reported that McPartland is now insane. Should he recover he may be tried.

HARLEM BRIDGE SHIFT TO-DAY.

One of the Supporting Barges Will Have a Family on Board.

When the big 1,500-ton draw of the Harlem Ship Canal bridge floats down the Harlem River this morning one of the supporting barges, the Genevieve Cutler, will have on board Gus Olsen, his wife and sister, his two children, a boy of 10 and a girl of 7, and a dog, a cat, a pigeon and a rabbit for each child.

The draw, which is 270 feet long and 63 feet wide, will be turned by electricity, which is an entirely new departure in bridge work. Power will be supplied by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company to two 80-horsepower motors. Should the power be cut off by accident or for any other cause, the bridge can be turned easily by hand. All the engineers connected with the work said that the bridge when turned by steam took about fifteen minutes to open and shut but the present electrical device is expected to do the work in one-third that time.

PLANNING MILL MEN FIGHT.
Conviction Under Smoke Ordinance to Be Carried Up.

August Siebern, foreman for William P. Youngs & Bro. of 131 East Tenth street, operators of a planing mill, against whom suit was brought at the instance of the Board of Health for allowing smoke to escape from the factory chimney contrary to the ordinance, was fined $100 in Special Sessions yesterday afternoon. An appeal is to be taken.

Edward L. Blackman, for the defendants, stated that $12,000,000 was invested in this city in the planing mill business and 100,000 hands employed, and that smoke from wood, which is largely used for fuel, was really beneficial to the public health rather than the contrary, and for this reason ought not to be treated as soft coal smoke.

MURPHY'S SMOKING ENGINES.

Run Foul of the Ordinance as They Put Away in the P. R. R. Hole.

Charles F. Murphy's New York Contracting Company landed in the West Side police court yesterday when Walter G. Hudson, a sanitary inspector, arrested Joseph Poplitz, fireman on one of the engines that have been hauling dirt out of the excavation for the Pennsylvania station, and charged him with violating the anti-smoke law. The inspector said the company had been warned three times to look after the smoke on the engines in the excavation, but no attention was paid to the anti-smoke ordinances did not refer to locomotives.

"Why don't you stop the New York Central and the Long Island locomotives from smoking?" he asked. "They are worse offenders than we are."

The inspector said that the railroads were being attended to as rapidly as possible. He asked that the case be held for trial in Special Sessions, and the Court granted his motion. Bail was fixed at $50.

In Memory of the Slocum Dead.
The Slocum disaster occurred two years ago to-morrow and the anniversary will be observed by the decoration of the graves of the victims in Lutheran Cemetery. Memorial services will be held there by Congressman Sulzer and a number of Lutheran ministers. Services will also be held in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, in Sixth street, by the Rev. Dr. Haas, pastor of the church. The cornerstone of a large memorial fountain in Tompkins Square Park will also be laid.
